

ement towards one of our two great magazines a.ry; the Emperor decided for Erfurt. this decision the French army was compelled to 3n the fruits of two victories, in which it had ac-such glory in defeating the far more numerous of the whole Contin
ent. L,
Linden
au:

Emperor had ordered the engineers to mine the >ridge between Leipzig and Lindenau so as to blow it the last moment; part of the army was still on rther side with 80 guns and a train of several hunragons.

head of column of this part of the army, on seeing dge blow up, supposed it had fallen into the power enemy. A cry of dismay went up from the ranks: ;nemy are in our rear; the bridge is cut!" The un-ate men broke their ranks and sought all means ipe.
The Duke of Taranto
swam across; Count ton, less lucky, was drowned; Prince Poniatowski,)irited horse, plunged in and was never seen again.

impossible as yet to estimate the loss involved by ifortunate accident, but the disorder it has caused

army has completely altered the appearance of The victorious French army will reach Erfurt 11 the appearance of a defeated army. The enemy, i by the battles of the 16th and 18th, have taken wing to the disaster of the 19th and have assumed irious attitude.

uld see clearly enough the fatal hour coming! My as growing paler; I felt the reins slipping from my